

Dakotah Tyler M.Sc.

ASTROPHYSICIST | SCIENCE COMMUNICATOR
KEYNOTE SPEAKER | STEAM EDUCATOR

Meet Dakotah

Once a Division I athlete, a career-altering injury rerouted his path from the football field to the far reaches of the cosmos. Now a Ph.D. Candidate in Astronomy & Astrophysics at UCLA, Dakotah is not only pushing the boundaries of our scientific understanding but is also passionately committed to sharing that knowledge with audiences of all ages and backgrounds. With a substantial social media following and key educational partnerships, he is effectively bridging the gap between the cosmos and community.

Dakotah seeks to partner with organizations, schools and companies that share his mission of making science relatable to people from all walks of life. His story of overcoming setbacks and building the skills to pursue astrophysics resonates with and motivates student audiences and he hopes inspire the next generation of scientists while igniting curiosity and wonder in all.
